War's Last Use Fied.

"War," said the truculent old general, "is a necessity. Science teaches us that we must have war in order to keep the population properly thinned down." "Science once taught us so,"
the apostle of universal peace agreed,
"but you must remember general, that that was before the advent of the automobile."DOCTORS DO NOT AGREE WITH PAGEJANESVILLE SURGEONS CALL HIS THEORY "ALL NONSENSE."APPENDICITIS ON TRIALBoston Man Does Not Believe Operations Are At All Necessary.With slight modifications, "All Nonsense" seems to be the expression that best defines the attitude of Janesville physicians in regard to the recently published statement of Dr.
Charles E. Page of Boston, who comes forward with the emphatic declaration that "an operation for appendicitis should be called a criminal operation and should be prohibited by law."
Although this statement leaves no doubt in the mind of the reader as to regards the Boston doctor's convictions, it by no means settles the matter for all time nor does it coincide with the opinions of some of the Janesville practitioners.Dr. Page may be a leading light in his profession in the "Hub" but his name hardly belongs conviction, this far west and none of the doctors interviewed ever heard of him. It seemed to be the general opinion that he was using strenuous methods to get into the limelight and chose the live question of appendicitis as a short cut to fame. No doubt he has succeeded in impressing himself on the minds of some people as an authority, due in great measure to the fact that there is still a lingering fear of modern surgery, a prejudice that is over present when startling discoveries are made in the case of small-pox and diphtheria antitoxins. These so-called conservatives are every-ready to give a convincing proof of the fallacy of the knife in cases of appendicitis, certain isolated cases where death has followed an operation for that complaint. They never take into consideration the number who have been saved, nor the fact that the surgeon might have been called in too late, or as a last resort, nor that death might have been caused by other complications.It is an established fact that during the time when the disease was, unknown, the mortality due to inflammation of the bowels, which is simply an advanced case of appendicitis, was over 70 per cent, while at the present time, if the surgeon is called in time, the per cent is very low. It does not follow necessarily, that because the knife has saved many lives of this sort that it should be used without exception. Strong proofs have been advanced to confirm the fact that instead of taking the life of Governor Johnson of Minnesota, the knife had much to do in prolonging it. It is accepted generally as a fact that he would have died during his first attack of the malady had it not been for an operation. His case was used as one of the convincing arguments against operating for appendicitis."It is all nonsense," said Dr. Nazam when asked to give his opinion regarding Dr. Page's statement. "Although I have never heard of the gentleman, from the strength of his statement he appears to be a fanatic. I am a firm believer in modern surgery and although I do not advocate the knife in every case of the disease, it has saved more lives than the old methods ever did. It is an established fact that when the disease was known simply as inflammation of the bowels and operations were unthought of, the per cent of mortality was over seventy. Now, if the operation is made in time, it is almost negligible.
It has always been my policy to go ahead and do the right thing in spite of what the fanatics say.""It is unnecessary and almost useless to stir up discussion in regard to the matter," was the reply of Dr. Penner when asked to give his opinion.
"Every man has a right to his own opinion and can claim an equal privilege with Dr. Page. I cannot agree with him in his statement in regard to operations for appendicitis and it is my private opinion that he is simply trying to break into print with a statement that is sure to be both approved and opposed. It has been shown that the high mortality due to the complaint we now call appendicitis has been greatly reduced by modern surgery. Although the knifecannot be called infallible, if an operation is performed between attacks or during the first thirty-one hours of the first attack, the mortality is very small, and if the patient does succumb, it is generally caused by other complications. Of course in this instance, if the patient is not operated on, it is quite as valuable to know when not to operate as it is to know when it is absolutely necessary.""Dr. Page may be an authority in Boston, but I cannot say that I have ever heard of him or read anything by him on the subject of operations for appendicitis," said Dr. Johnson. "If he has been quoted correctly, I cannot say that I agree with him. There is no doubt that operations for this disease have been made when unnecessary by physicians who were simply after the patient's money.
When it was discovered that the appendix could be removed and in this way ward off death from what was then known as inflammation of the bowels, many perfectly harmless ap-pendicites were removed simply because it could be done and the ra-tionization was large. A similar case may be quoted. When it was discovered that one could exist without one kidney, many surgeons performed this difficult operation for the same purpose—a large fee. While I do not agree fully with Dr. Page, my opinion as a physician is this: 'Do not stick a knife into a man unless it is absolutely necessary.'"CRIME WAVE HASN'T TOUCHED THIS CITYBut It Is a Wise Precaution to Rap on Wood While Remarking on the Phenomenon.Chief of Police George M. Appley has received from Chief Weber of La Crosse, who is secretary and treasurer of the Wisconsin Association of Police Chiefs, an inquiry for information regarding any of the well-known Chicago crooks who may have changed to be in Janesville within the past few weeks. The recent outbreak of crime in the Gate City and vicinity has all but produced a reign of terror. Burglaries and hold-ups have been committed in quick succession and the police, baffled by the mystery which surrounds these depredations and unable to find a single working clue, are now looking to other cities for assistance in solving the problem.Janesville and Rock county have thus far escaped the crime wave that has run its course in such neighboring states as Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and in the northern and western sections of Wisconsin. During the county fair season a number of well-known offenders were nabbed here on suspicion and chased out of town when no evidence could be found against them and it did not appear that they were wanted elsewhere.
Since that time, however, few, if any of the light-fingered gentry have passed this way.But one can never tell. Marshal Carl, brought in of Evansville, indicated yesterday that the situation was so serious and placed that it filled him with vague suspicion and alarm.
An oracle in the shape of a stray crook who was locked up at the Cutoff City the other night had delivered the following portentous prophecy:
"If this weather keeps up the Jews will soon be popping." It is only necessary to add that in the dialect of the "guns" a "Jew" is a bank or office vault or safe.DRAWING UP REPORT

THE NORTH POLE

The scrap going on between the explorers, Cook and Peary, has awakened interest in the land of perpetual ice and snow, and all over the land people are asking, "Why all this excitement about the North Pole?" and "What does the discovery amount to anyway?" These questions are well answered in the October Review of Reviews, which says:

"The nations have never been so much impressed by any other geographical event as by the announcement that the North Pole has been attained. It has been a world-wide topic for the past month. The northern apex of the globe has been photographed and the men acclaimed as having unfurled their flags over it are the heroes of the day. It is a great event and the story of the conquest of the pole will live in history; and yet not a vital human interest will be affected by it.

"Times have changed. Scarcely a pulse in Europe beat faster when the Western hemisphere was brought to light four centuries ago. Now travel at snail's pace then. Generations passed away while the New world, piecemeal, was coming into view. A century elapsed before the great fact dawned upon the minds of men that a vast redistribution of human enterprise was to be the potent sequence of a geographical discovery.

"The race today wants every nook and corner of the earth to stand out in the light, both for the good we may gain from them and for the completion of our knowledge of the little planet we inhabit. Nothing less will satisfy human need and curiosity. The attainment of the Pole signifies that we can and will produce a map, some day, which will picture the whole world just as it is.

"We read of this final triumph as the culmination of three centuries of striving to reach the North Pole. But the pole was never sought, for itself, until the nineteenth century. Robert Thorne, Henry Hudson, and other old mariners searched the ice edge for openings to the north, not that they had the slightest interest in the pole but because they imagined they might find a passage to China across it.

"The early whalers were concerned about the pole only if they might find new whaling grounds there. Some of them made good northings and two or three even declared that they had been to the pole, but their stories will not dim the lustre of the present achievement. The quest of the pole as a distinct object of geographical discovery has been known only for ninety-two years, and it began when the British admiral commanded Captain Buxton, with two vessels, to reach the Pacific by 'crossing' the North Pole.

"The British flag ever since has been floated by most of the leaders who have struggled and agonized and died in their almost superhuman efforts to reach the coveted goal. There was more significance in Peary's dispatch that he had pulled the Stars and Stripes to the pole than appeared on the surface.

THE EIGHT-HOUR DAY

Representatives of the American Federation of Labor recently called on President Taft to urge the enactment of a law which should prohibit the government from using any material produced by manufacturers who did not observe the eight-hour workday.

It was a cunning proposition, for it contemplated the barring of all competition and compelled the government to recognize the union at the expense of the great unorganized labor world. The "Baltimore Sun" has this to say about it:

"Labor leaders themselves may not grasp the radical reach of a law which an American federation committee proposed to President Taft. On the other hand, they may be fully aware of the final sweeping effect of such a statute. It is not apparent in the brief narration from Washington, whether the committee members, Gompers, Morrison, Duncan, Mitchell and a few others, were innocent or subtle. They seek a law requiring contractors and sub-contractors supplying materials for government work to adopt the eight-hour day. Suppose congress should enact the law. Every businessman or employer selling goods to the government would be limited to the eight-hour day in his shops. A manufacturer or tradesman would have the alternatives of working only eight hours a day or losing the government for all time as a customer. The man running his establishment nine hours could not sell to the national, and eventually as the law spread, the state and city governments. The consequence would be a government-run union of mercantile and manufacturing business."

The scheme is too transparent, and it will never become a law. The government has already gone too far along this line, by establishing an eight-hour day for its employees. The precedent is bad, and the principle wrong.

Of course the government employee has but little incentive and his ambition is nil. He is civil service protected, with no fear of losing his job, and when he gets to the top of the ladder a not very high up, but in any other calling young men soon discover that there is full play for ambition, and a deadly for men who work for it with heart and soul regardless of time, and unhampered by regulations.

The worst feature of any law which puts a time limit on labor, is the fact that it destroys ambition and tends to make machines of young men long before they reach the machine age. Success comes through combined work of both hand and brain.

Someone has said that money works 24 hours of the day, and the statement will not be doubted by people who are trying to get out of debt. The brain requires rest, but in normal condition, is active during the working hours.

When the hands are off duty, this effort force, if wisely directed, plans for the future, and in the planning life takes on purpose until thought and energy is absorbed in the upward climb, and then the clock and time limit are forgotten. Any law which tends to handicap ambition is a curse.

THE RIGHT RING

When Mayor Carlo refused to listen to the petition of the Madison street residents asking for a graveled street, and told them that while they would call him a good fellow for granting it, that in two years they would denounce him, his answer had the right ring, and people are beginning to appreciate the soundness of his policy on city improvements.

To his short vocabulary of "Observe the law" has been added another significant maxim: "What you do, do well," and so from haphazard methods, so long in use, the work is taking on method and before his administration closes the city will have some streets worthy of the name.

The vast funds, which should be abolished, have been squandered for many years, through lack of intelligent use. The city has practically six street commissions, which is five too many, and one city treasurer ought to be able to handle the funds. There are too many hands in the public till and too many pensioners on the pay roll; yet in spite of these conditions Mayor Carlo is making headway, and he is entitled to the hearty support of every taxpayer.

Wisconsin is ready for the fall and winter campaign against tuberculosis, and the state is rapidly organizing for the work. The little stamps to be used are made expressly for the badge state and they should bring in a tide of pennies from every nook and corner of the commonwealth. The Gazette will be headquarters for the campaign in Janesville, and every man, woman and child in the city is invited to join in the philanthropic work.

Alfred Henry Lewis, formerly of the McClure's muckraker staff, is out on the coast gathering garbage for the Hearst papers. He is following up President Taft to write up "the other side of the story." If there is anything dark about it Lewis will certainly be able to find it, for he has had experience along that line.

Governor Davenport of Illinois is out for a second term, with the primary law as an issue. If his constituents are wise they will retire him to private life and allow the primary force to slumber.

Don't be a kicker. Janesville needs the co-operation of every citizen and if this is accorded the city will take on new life and permanent growth.

Constitution of the United States.

I doubt very much whether any instrument not written by an inspired hand was more clear, terse, frugal of all words except those necessary to express its precise meaning, than the Constitution of the United States.—Thomas F. Bayard.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams.)

So it's come down to this, that a fair named Chris, a sailor man loved AMERICUS angling the mob and AT- VESPUCCIUS tempting to rob your Uncle Vespucci of his laurel. He admits that he sailed over the ocean and nailed his flag to the ground-plan of Boston, and he seems to be sure that his fame will endure, embalmed by such poets as Anthea. I have with me the proof that he never set hoof where roams the unbridled Yankee; he's a cheap sort of stick, he's a gold-plated brick, a four-flusher, nervy and cranky. Chris has stolen my hog, and he poisoned my dog, he hasn't a symptom of honor; and it doubtless will lap when we're done with this scrap that he'll find he is surely a honor. He insists that he found that American ground, he says all the glory is his; when your Uncle Vespucci turns his batteries loose, this fellow will wind up in prison. And I here take my stand; I discovered that land, despite people's scoffs and their strictures; all the rail-offs are mine—all the banquets and wine—and the magazine graft and the lectures!

More Machinery to Do the Work.
We have 2,921 courts which have the power to grant divorces, as against England's one, Gorman's 28 and France's 79.—Anna A. Rogers in the Atlantic Monthly.

PRESS COMMENT.

It Has Its Uses.

Evening Wisconsin: The coal-scuttles that which has been dordled as a thing unattractive served a utilitarian purpose when it saved a woman's life in Racine by shedding to her shoulder a brick that fell from the fourth story of a building. The incident shows what might be made of the hat, if beauty is to be ignored, and the qualities of the fireman's helmet cultivated.

Pretty Good Guess.

Milwaukee News: Every once in a while we are reminded that a year from now there's going to be another election.

Wait Till November.

Milwaukee Free Press: Each October day appears to be striving to be more pleasant than the one which preceded it.

Truth at Last.

Milwaukee Sentinel: Editor Bryan admits that "an absurd error" has crept into the Commoner. Is the colonel beginning to see a great light?

Because Meat Is High.

Rockford Republic: The question of "Why I am a vegetarian" is receiving considerable attention. Many of us would have no difficulty in explaining why we are likely to join this cult if present prices continue.

Truthful Man.

Madison Journal: Diogenes died too soon. Out in South Dakota lives a man who wants to pay back the money given to his family when it needed help and Dane county gave it.

Oh, Horror!

Rockford Register-Herald: The hint is out that the polar controversy may get into the phonographs. In that case it will not be necessary to pay $2 a seat to hear the heroes, but it may cost something to get away from the phonograph.

And In Janesville.

Beloit Daily News: Sherburn M. Becker is writing articles for a Milwaukee paper. Sherburn, you remember, once gave a moving picture show at the Wilson.

Just Think of That.

Chicago Record-Herald: A Columbus, Ohio, lady has written a letter of complaint to the newspapers because she was compelled when she went to church last Sunday to sit beside a woman who had so thoroughly saturated herself with perfume as to be disgustingly odoriferous. It will never be possible to make church-going pleasant for some people.

Have Smaller Heads.

The Evening Wisconsin comments on the fact that the freshmen at the University of Wisconsin are this year paying only half the price that was charged last year for the regulation green cap with cardinal button prescribed arbitrarily by the sophomores. This gives the measure of the injustice that has been perpetrated with profit in the past and brands the whole business as a dishonest imposition.

Too Sarcastic.

Evansville Review: Many of the exchanges are boasting that Janesville firm which recently paid some six thousand dollars for a double-page ad in an eastern paper. How much per line are you fellows getting for what you say?

And Spell It.

Rockford Republic: Miss Clara L. Clemens, daughter of Samuel Clemens, better known as Mark Twain, was today married to Ossip Gabrilowitch. If the great American humorist can resist laugh every time he hears his son-in-law mentioned he is more than a genius.

No Hurry Yet!

The Racine Journal wants us to know that "states with inheritance tax laws are not after the Harriman estate. Oregon demands $500,000 and Illinois will demand a much greater amount. Why is not our state hustling, as the Illinois Central runs to Madison?"

How About Cubs and Sox?

Chicago Record-Herald: Public attention is about to shift from Cook and Peary to Detroit and Pittsburgh. Fortunately there is no danger of any of the proofs which may be necessary to decide the great baseball contest are going to be enched in Green land.

Red Cross Shoe

Can you imagine a more ideal shoe than one that is absolutely comfortable and is the perfection of style?

The Red Cross Shoe is both. It is made with an idea and founded on a principle.

The idea is style and comfort in the same shoe.

The principle is to produce for American women a perfect shoe, at a price within reach and reason.

By the special Red Cross tanning process, the sole of the Red Cross Shoe instead of being stiff and rigid is made flexible, it bends with your foot. It gives you a feeling you can not imagine until you have worn it.

The styles for Fall give your feet that soft effect that is so attractive. Come in and try them on.

SERVICES INCREASE IN INTEREST DAY BY DAY

The evangelistic services at Howard chapel, corner South Jackson street and Eastern avenue, are increasing in interest. Last night Evangelist T. H. Grass spoke on "The Closed Door" and against whom the door would be closed. Those who were present were from the service realizing as never before the door of opportunity; mercy and heaven was closed against them that they were themselves responsible for it. God has given to us power to choose and our choice and decision settles and determines our eternal destiny. The meeting will continue all next week. Song service at 7:30. Meeting tonight at 7:30. All are invited to attend.

THE LIFE OF A CHORUS GIRL

By One of Them in "The Prince of Tonight."

Chorus girls have been a fruitful theme of discussion by press and public, and, truth to tell, the chorus girl has earned all the publicity that has been accorded her. I feel in a measure that I am qualified to talk intelligently and minutely of the merits, demerits, ambitions and the general good and bad qualities of the chorus girl from an experience with the real thing.

Don't let anybody deceive you about the chorus girl. Unlike a genius, she is made, not born. According to statistics, which have never been disputed, it takes sixteen months, two weeks, four days, three hours and two minutes to turn out a full-fledged, competent and altogether satisfactory chorus girl.

You can take it from me that this big, wide world has a whole lot of men who think that pretty chorus girls were made only to be admired. And while your mind is on that same subject, don't make the mistake of imagining that this class of human annoyance is made up only of the slimping youth—far from it. The majority

I stand ready to refute a whole lot of the nonsense and fluff that is supposed to surround the chorus girl. At the same time, I am not going to admit that every chorus girl comes up to the required standard either. As in other walks of life, many of them are only excuses. All this talk one reads about their nightly after-the-theatre supper at the lobster emporium is fiction, pure and simple, in a greater or less degree. It is a safe bet that four-fifths of them slide for the home plate just as soon as they have washed the cosmetics off their eyeballs. Suppose poor Jane does go somewhere some time after the play, a little diversion just to make her forget the show-bus, why should she be blamed? It is not her fault if the price of lobsters is high. Did you ever see a chorus girl buy one for herself? It's a pretty good wager that instead more of them are keeping little sisters in civvies than purchasing white-topped shoes or sea food.

Another fallacy into which the public has fallen is the popular belief that chorus girls are supposed to retire at 2 a. m. and get up at 4 p. m., to eat broiled lobster and drink champagne at least twice in twenty-four hours and to lead a light and flippant life beside which the existence of a butterfly is as soggy as an underdone biscuit.

The chorus girl is just like any other girl. If she is light-hearted and happy, so much the better for her. If by nature she is downcast and heavy-eyed, so much the worse for her. In any case, in neither condition is she any better, worse, happier, sadder, prettier, uglier or essentially different in any way from hundreds of thousands of other girls who earn their living in other channels. After all, she is just like them and they are like her—just girls, such as can be found in the ranks of "The Prince of Tonight," which will be seen at Myers theatre Saturday, Oct. 9, matinee and evening.

A distinguished writer once said, "There is no joy, but bitter tears will come to cast it like a fallen angel forth," and nowhere is this more truly illustrated than in Ellen Glyn's dramatization of her wonderful story, "Three Weeks," which will be presented under the same title at the Myers theatre on Tuesday, Oct. 12, by a company of distinguished players.

The unhappy Queen of Sardinia in this book and play paid earth's inevitable price for her short-lived happiness, and yet the whole of womanhood marvels and rebels at the idea and extends to her their universal sympathy. Miss Glyn has written a book that despite the host of adverse criticism it has received will open a line of thought to men and women that in some near future will work a great good for the community at large. Contrary to all expectations she has written a love tragedy from the story that is full of human interest and yet has abundant dramatic force and action. One interesting feature of the play, not contained in the book, shows her at home in Sardinia with the brute king, and serves to show the motive for her subsequent conduct. The play will be presented with elaborate scenic effects and every attention to detail.

Need Better Transportation.

Grapes which sell for only a cent a pound in one of the southern provinces of Brazil, bring 20 or even 25 cents a pound in Rio de Janeiro. The lack of good facilities for transportation accounts for much of the difference.

Nut Trees in Sections.

This is a great country with great diversity of soil and climate, but each section has one or more species of nut trees adapted to the local conditions.

NOTED ENGLISH JOURNALIST VISITS AMERICA. Lord Northcliffe (left) and Lady Northcliffe who are visiting San Francisco.

San Francisco.—Lord Northcliffe and party were given a hearty reception by the Press club of this city last week. It was the first visit to California and San Francisco and one long to be remembered.

Lord Northcliffe has the distinction of owning and publishing more newspapers than any other man in the world, and his versatility in that realm is indicated by the fact that he publishes both the London Mail, thought by British minds to be somewhat "yellow," and the London Times, the "most conservative" newspaper printed in the English language, and which, recently acquired, is probably the greatest pride of the proprietor. Other newspapers owned by Northcliffe are the Daily Mirror, the Evening News and any number of periodicals and publications.

The editor is accompanied on his tour by Lady Northcliffe, Melbury Hall managing editor of the London Times, and a brilliant journalist of many news gathering achievements and editorial accomplishments. Mrs. Charles Furse, widow of an artist, and Evelyn Wrench a young man who is editor of the Over Sea Daily Mail, the weekly edition of that paper prepared especially for foreign consumption. The party is traveling in the private car Independence.

With Lord Northcliffe the possible of an overthrow of the government. The conservatives lost on the issue."

Discussing the Payne tariff bill Lord Northcliffe said briefly: "It is a bill that will lead us to have a tariff. England had a protectionist policy up to 1840, when free trade was adopted." He spoke as if Britain would go back to protection, or to a tariff, to some extent at least.

From San Francisco the Northcliffe party will go east over the Santa Fe, stopping at the grand canyon and at Chicago. From there Northcliffe will go to Newfoundland, where he has recently purchased large tracts of timber, which he will develop in making pulp paper. The paper trust and Ditons Fond of Butter.

Great Britain consumes more butter than any other nation. The average per head is 13 pounds a year, as against eight pounds in Germany, four pounds in France and two pounds in Russia.

If I was a merchant I would not have a clerk in my store who did not feel that he was capable of giving me advice on some subjects. And I'd make him realize that I was ready to hear it and glad to get it.

TRIP IS THRILLING: BREAKS CHIMNEYS

WINNER OF INTERNATIONAL BALLOON RACE HAS VICTORY IN STORM.

GOES OVER BAVARIAN ALPS

Ascends to Height of 15,000 Feet—Every Ounce of Ballast, Even His Provision Is Cast Overboard—Land in Trees.

Paris, Oct. 8.—The following dispatch dated at Warsaw, was sent to the Associated Press by Edgar W. Mix of Columbus, O., the winner of the international balloon race for the Gordon Bennett trophy, which started from Zurich, Sunday.

"Leaving Zurich Sunday at 3:57 p. m., we were able to recognize our route only as far as Constance. Thence to the finish the weather was so thick that direction could only be determined by compass. During Sunday night the balloon, in a drenching rain, seemed to be at a complete standstill. We ascended and descended in search of better currents of air, without appreciable results. By four o'clock in the morning half of our ballast had been used.

"The passage of the Bavarian Alps through rain and clouds was thrilling. Once we swooped down the mountain side with frightful velocity, plunging into a chasm of fog which seemed bottomless. It was as if the earth had opened to swallow us up. The balloon several times crashed through the tree tops. After two hours we emerged from the valley and got a northerly slant of wind. When clear of the mountains we moved at a lively rate. The guide rope dragged over farmhouses, breaking tiles and chimneys. The peasants rushed out with cries and imprecations.

"Sights—Another Balloon. A few hours later we recognized several villages and then the town of Konigsstadt. We sighted a balloon to the eastward with peasants hanging on to the guide rope.

"After passing over Konigsstadt, which cost three sacks of ballast, we rose through the clouds to an altitude of 4,000 meters (about 15,000 feet), and saw above the clouds a balloon to the north, about 100 meters higher. We began to descend at 1:40 p. m., emerging from the clouds about 400 meters above the town of Waldenbourg, and were obliged to jettison 11 sacks of ballast and half of our provisions to keep clear of the roofs.

"We rose again to 2,800 meters near Breslau, throwing overboard the life savers, mattresses and the remainder of our provisions.

"Ballast All Gone. Gradually we continued to descend after that altitude until six o'clock, evening. With good equilibrium we managed to keep aloft until three o'clock Tuesday morning, without expenditure of ballast, of which, as a matter of fact, there was not an ounce left.

"The balloon landed and became wedged between pine trees in the forest of Gustava. We waited until 6:30 before deflating and then searched for help. We found peasants, one of whom had been in America and spoke a little English. With their aid we landed the balloon on carts.

"On our arrival at Ostrolenko we were stopped by the police, who took us, together with the balloon, to the station, where we remained until instructions were received from St. Petersburg for our release. We were treated excellently."

ASKS THAT RIVAL BE ENJOINED

Candidate for Mayor Seeks to Enjoin His Opponent.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 8.—George D. Todd, independent Republican candidate for mayor, instituted an injunction suit in the Jefferson circuit court against Mayor James P. Grinstead, who is the nominee of the "regular" Republicans, to succeed himself. In his petition, Mr. Todd declares that Grinstead is ineligible to hold the office of mayor, having been elected for one term, and quotes the constitutional prohibition. He declares that if County Clerk Galtbart is permitted to place Mayor Grinstead's name on the ballot as the Republican candidate, the voters will be misled to his (Todd's) disadvantage. He also alleges that in the event that Grinstead receives a plurality of the votes, he will be declared ineligible, thereby rendering a special election necessary. The case will be heard October 9.

Kills Wife; Causes Panic

Kokomo, Ind., Oct. 8.—Because his wife, from whom he was separated, refused to return and celebrate their twenty-first anniversary, William Robinson of this city shot and instantly killed the woman. He followed her to a dry goods store and in the presence of 100 lady customers and clerks slew her. Robinson was arrested. He is 46 years old. He carries a bullet in his own head received 33 years ago, when his father, David Robinson, killed his wife and four children and himself, this son being the only survivor of the family.

Commemorates Indian Battle

Point Pleasant, W. Va., Oct. 8.—A four-day celebration began here in commemoration of the battle of Point Pleasant, fought 135 years ago, which resulted in a complete victory for the Virginia army of 1,400 under command of Gen. Andrew Lewis, over the combined Indian forces under Chief Corastalk.

WORLD'S CHAMPIONS TO BATTLE

Pittsburg and Detroit Meet in First Game of Series.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 8.—Detroit, the American league champions, and Pittsburg, the winners of the National league pennant, will meet here this afternoon in the opening game of the series which will decide the baseball championship of the world for 1909. It will be Detroit's third attempt in as many years to win the greatest honors in organized baseball as Hugh Jennings' champions have been defeated by the Chicago Nationals in the last two world's series. Pittsburg has not had an opportunity for contesting for the world's championship since 1903, when it won the National league pennant and was defeated by the Boston Americans in the big series.

A record-breaking crowd at Forbes field is certain. Every reserved seat of the 15,000 has been engaged and thousands more enthusiasts are expected to engage in the wild scramble for other spaces in the immense amphitheater. It is expected 35,000 persons will see the first game.

Both teams are determined to win the opening game as the winner of the first engagement in the last four world's series has captured the championship. As a result both Managers Fred Clark and Hugh Jennings will send the men they consider their strongest at present to do the pitching. Jennings said he would probably use George Mullin, his husky and reliable veteran, while Clark is planning to use Charles Adams, the man who came from the Louisville American association team at the beginning of this season and made a phenomenal record with Pittsburg.

The prevailing odds are 2 to 1, with Pittsburg favorite, but little betting is being done because of the absence of Detroit money. Many wagers are being made that Hans Wagner will outlast Ty Cobb and this is considered an even money proposition.

DEWEY SEES NO WAR CLOUDS

Says American Navy Is No "Bluff"—Favors Ship Subsidy.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Defending, with characteristic vigor, the American navy, Admiral George Dewey asserted that not only is our navy not a "bluff" but that he is confident that it would give a good account of itself should war ever come.

The admiral's remarks were called forth by a statement attributed to former Representative Landis of Indiana, who, in a recent speech at Cincinnati, O., on advocating ship subsidy, is reported to have said that "those Americans who are informed consider our navy as a 'bluff'." The expression was characterized by Admiral Dewey as an "unfortunate" one. Declaring that he saw no war clouds gathering on the horizon, Admiral Dewey discussed several phases of the navy. He expressed himself as heartily in favor of ship subsidy legislation and made a strong plea for the continued upbuilding of the navy. He said that at one time he used to think that the German ships were being built for us. "But now I do not," he added.

LOVING CUPS FOR PRESIDENTS

El Paso Citizens Will Give Souvenirs to Diaz and Taft.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 8.—The citizens of El Paso will present Presidents Taft and Diaz with loving cups when they meet here on the 16th. The cups will be of solid 18-karat gold and will be duplicates. Each will bear the coat-of-arms of both Mexico and the United States and inscriptions.

John E. Wilke of the United States secret service has arrived, and with his lieutenant, L. C. Wallace, in consultation with local committees of Juarez and El Paso.

The work of decorating the city has begun and the flags of both nations will be most elaborate. The hotel Sheldon, which will be Mr. Taft's official headquarters, is decorated from dome to sidewalk.

Shonts Makes Answer.

New York, Oct. 8.—Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Inter-Metropolitan, has made answer through his attorney, Dolaney Nicol, to the suit brought against him by Frederick Hiph for $200,000 damages, alleging alienation of the affections of Mrs. Hiph. The answer is merely a general denial of the allegations, and makes no reference to the defense advanced previously that some wicked double was impersonating Mr. Shonts in the affair.

Accidentally Kills Wife.

Waukegan, O., Oct. 8.—While taking out his shot gun to shoot pigeons, Henry Fritz, a farmer living at Archbold, near here, accidentally discharged the weapon and killed his wife, the mother of seven children.

CATCH JURY FIXERS; DELAYS SERIOUS

SENSATIONAL DEVELOPMENTS EXPECTED IN CHICAGO BRIBERY PROBE.

WAYMAN HAS NEW EVIDENCE

Investigators Report Unexpected Discoveries and Readiness of Some to Confess Ali—Reforms in Venice Drawing Are Started.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—Important developments in the investigation of the jury-tampering scandal have compelled State's Attorney Wayman to remain at work in his office and abandon his trip to Springfield. Drafts of new indictments are being prepared and the present grand jury is expected to return them. At the same time it was announced that the graft investigation will also be fruitful in a few days. Mr. Wayman had made arrangements to go to the convention of the State Attorneys' association at Springfield, when the investigations in the bribery inquiry reported unexpected discoveries and the readiness of some persons to come forward and tell what they know, and the state's attorney concluded it was best to forego his trip.

Mr. Wayman, after checking up on the new information found that it was of such importance that to delay action upon it even 24 hours might be serious. He at once settled down to take charge of the examination of the persons who were said to be ready to make the confessions and to complete preparations for new indictments.

Jury Reforms Are Started. Mr. Wayman scored the first victory in his attack upon the Cook county jury commissioners' office when as the result of his charges and following the return of jury-tampering conspiracy indictments against three persons radical reforms in the drawing of jurors were put into effect today.

Clerk of the Criminal Court A. J. Harris, following the return of indictments charging John J. Holland, secretary and member of the jury commission; Nicholas J. Martin, private secretary of Ald. Michael Kennedy; and William J. Hayburn, real estate man, with conspiracy to tamper with the jury system, made a thorough investigation and at its conclusion joined hands with Mr. Wayman in demanding additional safeguards to prevent and check all fraud. The jury commissioners and their friends resented the charge made by Mr. Wayman that the jury commissioners' office is the "rottenest hole in Cook county" and they insisted that the system under which the jurors were drawn was as nearly perfect as possible.

WOULD DIVIDE PHILIPPINES.

Moro Governor Believes It Would Aid American Influence in Orient.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 8.—Recommendation as a means of securing a permanent American influence in the Orient, the establishment of an American territory, including the southern islands of the Philippine archipelago, Col. Ralph W. Hoyt of the Twenty-fifth United States Infantry, former commander of the department of Mindanao, has resigned as civil governor of Moro province. He has sent his final report to Washington, has returned with his regiment, and is now commandant at Port Lawton.

In his report Col. Hoyt urges that the attention of higher authorities be invited to the great difference in condition in Moro province as compared with the rest of the Philippine archipelago and that congress enact such laws as will effect a permanent separation of the southern islands, including Mindanao, Sulu archipelago, and Palawan, from the rest of the Philippine archipelago.

Discussing this question Col. Hoyt said: "The Moros have no conception of representative government or the meaning of independence, having no word in their language to give it expression.

"We have not yet built up a state or reached the mass of the people in any general uplifting movement.

"The mailed fist is the law of the land—peace would be impossible without the actual presence of troops—for this country is neither ready nor has it ever known any other form of government.

"The civil military government in which the government controls the army forces is indispensable now and will be for generations to come. A purely civil government is quite impossible, and at present would carry with it untold misery and suffering."

Mrs. Belle Guinness Seen.

Dalhousie, N. S., Oct. 8.—Henrik Fritz, formerly of Laporte, Ind., down here on a homeseeker excursion train, declared he had seen Mrs. Belle Guinness on a Rock Island train going west toward Tucuman, N. M. Fritz says he saw the woman emerge from the lavatory of the Pullman, which he was passing at the time. She saw Fritz and dropped a heavy veil over her face.

New Assistant Secretary of State.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Chandler Hale of Maine, son of Senator Hale, has been selected as third assistant secretary of state to succeed William Phillips of Boston, who will become secretary of the American embassy at London, succeeding John R. Carter. Mr. Carter will be appointed minister to Roumania.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

North Carolina, South Dakota, Colorado, Alabama and Virginia, in the order named, lead in the production of mica.

In their writings the Chinese use at least 214 groups of signs, each containing from five to 1,354 separate characters.

An international moving picture exhibition, including apparatus and attachments of all sorts, is being held in London.

France has followed the lead of the United States in the establishment of a laboratory for the investigation of mine accidents.

New Mexico produced 2,467,837 short tons of coal last year, a decrease of a trifle more than six per cent. from the output of 1907.

Plans for the permanent illumination of Niagara Falls this summer have been worked out by Engineer Ryan of the General Electric company. The details will be laid before a committee of interested citizens from Niagara Falls, Ont., and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The plans, as outlined by Mr. Ryan, call for two batteries of lights, one to be known as the Cliff battery, the other as the Gorge battery. It is planned to excavate a recess in the Canadian cliff opposite Goat Island, this shelf to be 128 feet long and 12 feet wide, and the height of the excavation to be 10 feet. Here will be installed twenty projectors, each thirty inches in diameter.

The previous illumination made during the progress of the exposition at Buffalo was of 1,500,000 nominal candlepower, whereas the proposed illumination will be 2,500,000 nominal candlepower.

Tree Planting by Dynamite.

Holes for tree planting, according to the Engineering Record, have been excavated by the Long Island railway by blasting with dynamite.

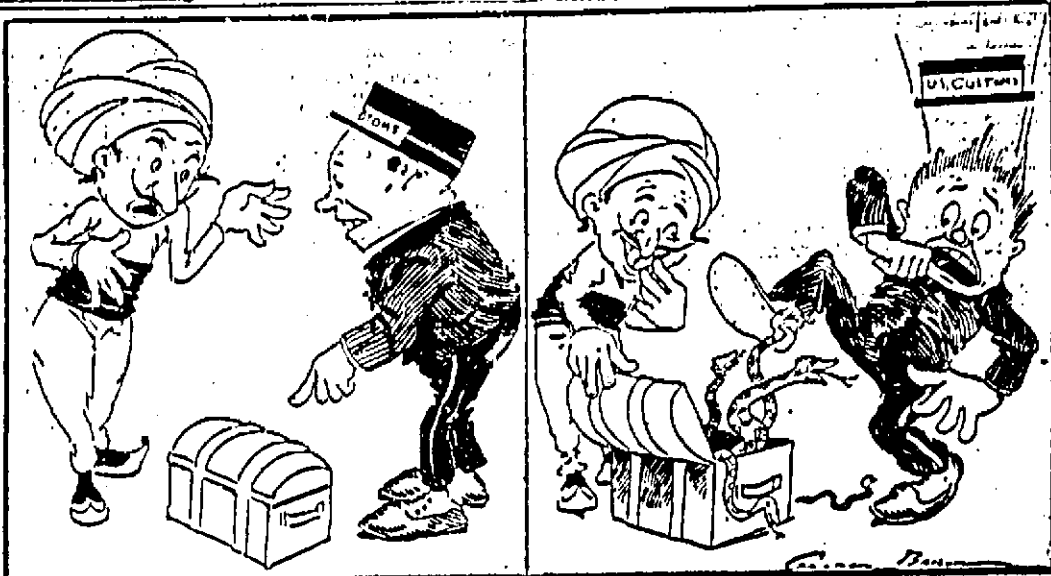

A hole about two feet deep was first dug with a post-hole auger at an angle of about thirty-five degrees with the surface, and loaded with half a stick of 40 per cent. dynamite. This shot makes a hole about two feet deep and three feet in diameter, leaving the earth in the bottom pulverized suitably for planting. It is stated that two men can thus excavate 250 holes in a ten-hour day at a cost of about 7½ cents a hole.

Want Women on Juries.

A movement is being made in certain quarters in France to bring about the representation of women on the juries. It long has been felt that to try women for crime before a court where the jury is composed entirely of men is an unnatural and unfair proceeding.

UNCLE JOE THE STORY TELLER.

A Lump of Coal and Its Interesting History, How It Was Formed Many Years Ago and How It Is Mined for Our Use Today.

The sun is the source of all this earth's energy. And, wherever you see an automobile coming, and step aside, you pay a compliment to the sun, whether you know it or not.

"In those old days the sun sent forth its heat, and the leaves, stems, branches and trunks of earth's vegetation were warmed and grew. In the form of coal that energy of the past has come to us."

"With coal we generate steam. With the aid of steam we make all kinds of wheels go round, and develop electricity, compressed air and other motive powers. But it must all come from coal first."

"Of course, some people still burn wood. But, that's only away out in the country. So, I may safely say, coal is man's dearest possession. Its hidden power, composed of the stored-up energy derived from the sunbeams of the long past, by dint of application and perseverance on man's part has rendered possible steam cars, automobiles and other means of rapid transportation."

"The 'Great Dismal Swamp' lying to the south of Norfolk, Va., and stretching far away into North Carolina, furnishes one of the best comparisons of present-day to a probable view of a prehistoric coalbed in process of formation. The whole place is one enormous quagmire, overgrown with water plants and trees. The soil is as black as ink from the old dead leaves, grasses, roots and stems which lie in it, and so soft that everything would sink into it, if it were not for the matted roots of the mosses, ferns and other plants which bind it together. You may dig down for ten or fifteen feet, and find nothing but peat made from the remains of plants which have lived and died there in succession for ages and ages, while the black trunks of the fallen trees lie here and there, gradually being covered up by the dead plants."

"Peat when dried becomes firm and makes an excellent fire, and if it were pressed until hard and solid it would not be unlike coal. Pure peat is free of earth. The explanation is not difficult. Streams flow constantly, or, rather, ooze, into the Great Dismal Swamp from the land that lies to the west, but instead of bringing mud in with them as rivers do to the sea, they bring only pure, clear water, because, as they filter through the dense jungle of reeds, ferns and shrubs which grow around the marsh, all earth is sifted out and left behind."

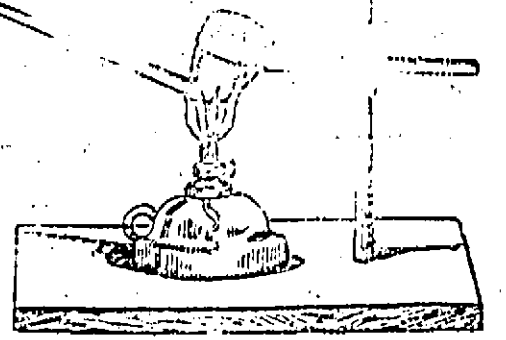

"We know that the surface of the earth is constantly changing. Now, if the land to the east were to sink sufficiently to allow the salt water of the Atlantic Ocean to steal in, all the vegetable matter would gradually be killed and the water from the streams in the west would no longer be filtered, but would bring down mud and leave it as a layer over the dead plants. If the ground went on sinking till the sea covered the whole place the sea sand would be thrown down over the clay and gradually pressed down by the weight of new sand above, till it formed solid sandstone and our coal bed becomes buried deeper and deeper in the earth."

"At last, after long ages, when the thick mass of sandstone above the bed had been laid down, the sinking must have stopped and the land have risen a little, so the sea was driven back; and then the rivers would bring down earth again and make another clay-bed. Then a new forest would spring up, and a second bed of peat and vegetable matter would begin to accumulate to form a coal bed many feet above the first. In this manner the different deposits, or veins, of coal beds have been formed."

"The pressure which may be exerted by machinery is absolutely nothing compared to the weight of all those hundreds of feet of solid rock which lie over the coal-beds, and which has pressed them down for thousands and perhaps millions of years. So we can see how coal was not only squeezed into a solid mass, but often much of the oil and gas which were in the leaves of the plants was driven out by pressure and the internal heat of earth, and the whole baked into one substance."

A SIMPLE EXPERIMENT IN THE MANUFACTURE OF GAS FROM COAL.

CROSS-SECTIONAL VIEW SHOWING CONTENTS OF UNCLE JOE'S COAL BALL.

COAL LUMP SHOWING IMPRESSION OF FERN

"The difference between coal which flames and coal which burns only with red heat is chiefly that one has been baked and packed more than the other. Coal which flames has still got in it the tar and gas and the oils which the plant stored up in its leaves, and these when they escape again give back the sunbeams in a bright flame. The hard stone coal, on the contrary, has lost a great deal of these oils, and only carbon remains, which soles hold of the oxygen of the air and burns without flame. Coke is pure carbon, which we make artificially by driving out the oils and gases from coal, and the gas we burn is part of what is driven out."

"A miniature gas factory may be constructed by any one using an ordinary clay pipe. Fill the bowl with a little powdered coal and cement the big end with fine clay. Place the bowl over a hot flame, and the gas will be driven out of the little end of the pipe and will light easily."

During his talk on coal Uncle Joe had been busy on his coal ball, and had had a flat polished surface wherein with the aid of his magnifying glass the children were able to distinguish a number of interesting figures and designs which, Uncle Joe explained, were caused by ferns, leaves, stems, buds, cones and other parts of plants of the long, long ago.

"Think, then," added Uncle Joe, "how much we owe to these plants which lived and died so long ago! Think, too, of what we owe to the miner of today, who delves deep into the earth and risks his health and life in the pursuit of his calling. For, without coal we could have had no engines of any kind, and consequently no large manufacturing. Rapid transit would be a thing unknown, and electric light would not exist. The process of mining coal involves digging, picking, breaking, sorting, tramping, hoisting, re-sorting, screening and much shoveling and hauling before it goes into the stove and furnace. The greatest dangers attendant upon coal mining are cave-ins, fire-damp and flooding."

Are Microbes in Your Scalp

It Has Been Proved That Microbes Cause Baldness.

Professor Unna, of Hamburg, Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the leading French dermatologist, discovered that a microbe causes baldness. Their theory has time and again been amply verified through research experiments carried on under the observation of eminent scientists. This microbe lodges in the sebaceous glands, which secrete the hair follicles, and in time the pores entirely close, and the scalp gradually takes on a shiny appearance. When this happens there is no hope of the growth of hair being revived.

Dandruff is a contagious disease, which is largely due to a destructive microbe, which when left to pursue its course causes itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Dandruff is caused by the microbe attacking the glands which produce the sebaceous matter, which latter then unnaturally dries up and scales off.

We have a remedy which will, we honestly believe, remove dandruff, exterminate the microbe, promote good circulation in the scalp and around the hair roots, tighten and revitalize the hair roots and overcome baldness, as long as there is any life left in the hair roots.

We back up this statement with our own personal guarantee that this remedy called "Rexall" will cure all cases of dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair, and will be supplied free of all cost to the user if it fails to do so.

It will frequently restore gray and faded hair to its original color, providing loss of color has been caused by disease; yet it is in no sense a dye. "Rexall" "93" Hair Tonic accomplishes these results by making every hair root, follicle and pigment gland strong and active, and by stimulating a natural flow of coloring pigment throughout the hair cells.

"Rexall" "93" Hair Tonic is entirely free from grease or sediment, and is exceedingly pleasant to use and will not clog the hair or permanently soil the clothing or pillow.

We exact no obligation or promise from anyone who uses it, and if not satisfied tell us and we will refund the money you paid us for it. Two sizes, prices 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain it in Janesville only at our store, The Rexall Store, The Smith Drug Co.

Keep Your Homes
Bright

Make your oil kerosene just like new with Linoleum Lustre.

If a little silver polish would keep your heat silver spoons from becoming tarnished and worn, you'd be quick about it, now wouldn't you? Don't allow your kerosene or oil to become shabby, affecting the entire look of your home.

It either is already dulled in color and the pattern is worn nearly away, or you can make it look like new at small expense by applying Linoleum Lustre. If your kerosene is new, you can keep it fresh for years—just the way it comes from the store.

Linoleum Lustre has none of the drawbacks of varnishes. It will not crack, or blister; heat and cold do not affect it. It is so easy to apply that a child can do so, and it will dry over night. It will pay for itself over and over again, year after year. It will be the best investment you ever made for your home. Secure after you buy Linoleum Lustre just once, and apply it. You can stop buying kerosene or oil. What you have will last you and you will have no more worn spots to be ashamed of or patch up. One quart covers 100 sq. feet.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

PEOPLE talk about suffering from fear, but it seems to me that a great many people rather enjoy being afraid. How else can you explain the way in which many women coddle and foster and feed their fears?

Of course, it has always been more or less expected of women that they should be afraid of things.

Some men enjoy cowardice in a woman as much as women enjoy courage in a man. Women know this tendency and play upon it. I don't believe one woman in ten is really and truly very much afraid of a mouse and yet I don't think more than one woman in ten dares to appear not to be.

But it isn't against the young girl who knows that a certain degree of timorousness is part of her appeal to the other sex and who therefore cultivates it, that I am inveighing. I believe too thoroughly that "all's fair in love and war."

It's the grown-up women who have long ceased to plot against the other sex and who still go on coddling their fears that I object to.

I know several women who are afraid of lightning. Not one of them makes any effort to overcome this terror, but every time a thunderstorm breaks they all give themselves up wholeheartedly to the luxury of being afraid.

One of them insists that all her family shall gather around her and sit in chairs each leg of which has been placed in a tumbler. Another closes to a dark closet and crouches in the corner till the storm is over.

All of them talk during the storm of nothing else than the fear they have of lightning, things they have read about people who were killed by lightning and terrible storms they have known.

A woman who lives near me has always been afraid of hydrophobia. She has coddled and petted this fear until it has become one of the most absorbing interests of her existence.

No mention of a death by hydrophobia or of a mad dog scare in the newspaper ever escapes her. She has read all about the disease in medical books. She never meets a doctor without getting him to talk on the subject. One of the greatest events of her life was meeting a man who had had hydrophobia and getting him to detail his experiences. And last but not least, she keeps a scrap book in which she has pasted all the cures for hydrophobia that have been published for the last thirty years. She had 137 the last time I saw her.

Is it any wonder that she has managed to convince herself that she is going to die of hydrophobia, and that the mere sight of a dog fills her with terror?

If the women who are afraid of lightning made a point of talking of other subjects, reading some especially interesting book or busying themselves with some exceptionally absorbing task during storms, the chances are that they might forget to be afraid.

If the woman who so much dreads hydrophobia puts the subject out of her mind, keeps a pet dog and made herself realize what harmless creatures dogs are under proper conditions she would probably have nothing left but a vague fear of that undoubtedly dread disease.

But the trouble is that they're all rather like the chronic dyspeptic who was found looking unusually gloomy.

"What's the matter?" inquired his friends.

"Oh dear," groaned the dyspeptic, "I've eaten something that agreed with me."

FOG CAUSES MANY ACCIDENTS

Dozen People Hurt in Car Collisions—One Boy Dead.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 8.—A dense fog that interrupted river navigation and caused several street car collisions resulted in the death of an unidentified boy about eight years old, who was run over by an automobile. Nearly a dozen people were cut and bruised in street car collisions. None of them was fatally hurt.

The steamer Frank E. Kirby was compelled to anchor in the lower Detroit river all night with a score of passengers from Put-In-Bay and the steamer Tionesta of the Anchor line arrived 12 hours late after a cautious passage across Lake Erie from Buffalo.

Polar Scientist Claims All Commanders' Men Loved Him.

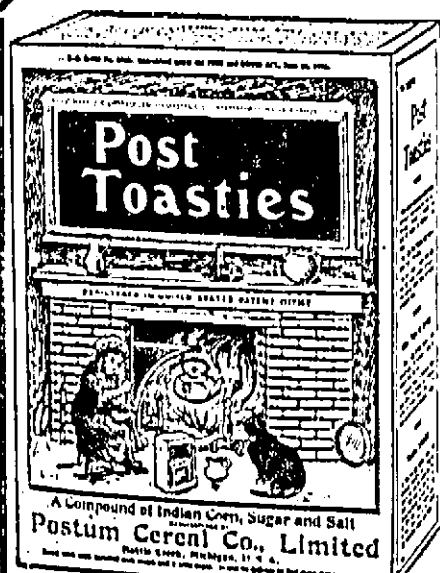

Freeport, Me., Oct. 8.—Commander Peary loved his men and time and time again went out of his way to help them over rough places, doing anything he could to make their lot easier, and the members of his party fairly worshipped him.

This was the answer Prof. Donald H. McMillan, a scientist with the Peary polar party, who arrived at his home here, to a query about intimations attributed to Dr. F. A. Cook, that Commander Peary was cold and unsympathetic towards his assistants.

Governor of Moro Declares It Would Be Means of Securing Foot-hold in Orient.

Paris, Oct. 8.—Marquis Del Mundt, the Spanish ambassador to France, has again formally assured Foreign Minister Pichon that Spain has no intention of departing from her original program regarding Morocco as communicated to the powers.

Alejandro La Roux, member of the Spanish chamber of deputies and leader of the Barcelona republicans, who is now returning to Spain for the opening of the Cortes after two years spent in exile because of his bitter denunciation of the government, declared in an interview in Paris that all the liberal elements in Spain were concentrating and that a revolution was not only possible but necessary.

He said that although Ferrer was not directly responsible for the rioting in Barcelona last July he was convinced he would be condemned to be shot, as was Garcia, because the clerical reaction has the upper hand and is determined to put an end to lay education. La Roux is of the opinion that King Alfonso is weak and without prestige except with the army, and that the monarchy is irretrievably doomed, and he said that the only way to save Ferrer is through international agitation in favor of the public trial.

The French socialists are calling meetings throughout the republic to protest against the Spanish repression.

London, Oct. 8.—The reports current on the continent that Great Britain is supporting Spain in any scheme of aggrandizement at the expense of Morocco were declared at the foreign office to be without foundation. Foreign office officials say they had no reason to believe that the Spanish government contemplated the occupation of Tetuan or any other considerable portion of Moorish territory, or of otherwise acting contrary to treaty obligations.

CURTISS MAKES THREE FLIGHTS

Great Crowds Witness Various Navigators Perform in the Air.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—Glenn H. Curtiss, who won international honors in aviation at Rheims, France, made three aeroplane flights here. One was more than a quarter of a mile and the shortest of the three was about 220 yards. This was witnessed by a throng of 400,000 persons who waited for hours in Forest park to see an aeroplane in action. Curtiss' last performance was cut short by his engine falling when he was about 25 feet from the ground. The machine glided to an irregular landing place and a rudder snapped. Efforts to mend it before darkness were unavailing.

The really successful navigators of the air were Roy Knabenshue, Lincoln Beachy and Thomas Baldwin in dirigibles. The last made an extended flight when motor trouble overcame him and he was forced to land in the crowd. His second flight, after repairs had been made, was greeted with great applause.

The crowd which witnessed the flights was the greatest the street car company ever carried to Forest park since the world's fair. The space allotted to the Centennial week visitors was densely packed and Art bill was black with spectators.

PLATFORM DERIDES TARIFF BILL

Rhode Island Democratic Convention Nominates State Ticket.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 8.—A lengthy arraignment of Gen. Charles R. Bryan, the Rhode Island Republican national committeeman and a denunciation of his alleged influence on the politics of the state, occupied the greater part of the platform adopted by the Democratic state convention held here. The platform also declared that the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill was "the most outrageously unfair tariff ever enacted by an American congress," demanded the election of United States senators by popular vote and declared in favor of a federal income tax.

The nominations for state officers were made by acclamation. Olney Arnold of Providence was named for governor.

Adopt Uniform Grain Grades.
Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 8.—The Grain Dealers' National association convention here made a great stride toward uniform grading of grains. By conceding some of the demands made by the Chicago grain men for changes in the grain grades adopted at the St. Louis convention last year, the grain men have finally adopted uniform grading for corn, oats, barley and rye, and adopted the Kansas City, Chicago and southwestern market grades on Milo maize and kafir corn. They also made some material concessions by granting part of the Chicago wheat men's demands for changes in wheat tests.

Entire Police Force Indicted.
Davenport, Ia., Oct. 8.—Mayor O. L. Ingels of Marshalltown, Ia., his chief of police and the entire police force, as well as Deputy Sheriff C. B. You know what the average price of land is throughout the middle west—from $100 to $150 an acre.

But here in the very heart of Wisconsin lies over a half-million acres with the same soil and the same climate as the other lands, yet thrown on the market at from $6 to $20 an acre.

Ten Years to Pay

This land has been held by the lumbermen until stripped of its timber, and now it is thrown open to farmers.

One man recently bought some $15 land and after clearing and cultivating it sold the land for $50 an acre and reinvested the profits in other land here. He is even now a wealthy man.

You can buy this land by paying one-third down and the balance within ten years. Suppose you select some $15 land. Pay $5 an acre down and you can own an eighty-acre farm for only $400. And the value grows with great rapidity.

Wisconsin butter, cream and cheese command a premium in every market. Rich, thick clover and pure spring water, with a mild climate, make dairying ideal.

Four cows usually yield $200 a year in butter and $150 in beef. Clover grows so abundantly as to bring $10 an acre in the meadow. Sugar beets, tobacco and grain all yield the most plentiful crops.

CHAPTER XIV.

While the Lancashire was racing down to the Straits of Messina the Brinna was heading for the same point from the opposite direction, no longer dawdling along at half-speed, but going her full 16 knots, after coasting at Naples, and any navigator who knew the positions and respective speeds of the two yachts could have calculated with approximate precision the point at which they would probably sight each other.

Logothetti had given up the idea of taking Baraka to Paris, if he had ever really entertained it at all. He assured her that Naples was a great city, too, and that there was a first-class French dress-making establishment there, and that the Villa de Lyon would turn her out almost as smartly as the Rue de la Paix itself. He took Baraka ashore and placed her for half a day in the hands of Mme. Anna, who undertook to do all that money could do in about a fortnight. He had the opportunity to say that Baraka was a niece of his from Constantinople, whose mother was on board the yacht, but had unfortunately sprained her ankle in falling down the companion during a gale, and could therefore not accompany her daughter on shore. The young lady, he said, spoke only Turkish. Mme. Anna, grave and magnificently calm under all circumstances, had a vague recollection of having seen the handsome oriental gentleman already with another niece, who spoke only French; but that was none of her business. When would the young lady cry on the things? On any day Mme. Anna chose to name; but in the meantime her uncle would take her down to Sicily, as the weather was so wonderfully fine and it was still so hot. Mme. Anna therefore named a day, and promised, moreover, to see the best linen-draper and seamstress in the city, and to provide the young lady with as complete an outfit as if she were going to be married. She should have all things visible and invisible in the shortest possible time. Logothetti, who considered himself a stranger, insisted on putting down a thousand franc note merely as a guarantee of good faith. The dressmaker protested almost furiously and took the money, still protesting. So that was settled, and Baraka was to be outwardly changed into a beautiful foreign lady without delay. To tell the truth, the establishment is really a smart one, and she was favorably impressed by the many pretty frocks and gowns that were tried on several pretty young women in order that she might make her choice.

Baraka would have liked a blue satin skirt with a yellow train and a bright green silk body, but in her travels she had noticed that the taste of foreign ladies was for very sober or gentle colors, compared with the fashionable standards of Samarkand, Tiflis, and Constantinople, and she meekly acquiesced to everything that Logothetti and Mme. Anna proposed, after putting their heads together. Logothetti seemed to know a great deal about it.

It was nearly dark when the naphtha launch took them out to the yacht, which lay under the mole where the big English and German passenger steamers "aim" the "men-of-war" are moored.

Logothetti had at last received Margaret's telegram asking him to meet her at once. It had failed to reach him in Gibraltar, and had been telegraphed on thence to Naples, and when he read it he was considerably disturbed. He wrote a long message of explanations and excuses, and sent it to the prima donna at Bayreuth, tripling the number of words she had propounded for his answer. But no reply came, for Margaret was herself at sea and nothing could reach her. He sent one of his own men from the yacht to spend the day at the telegraph office, with instructions for finding him if any message came. The man found him three times, and brought three telegrams; and each time as he tore open the little folded brown paper he felt more uncomfortable, but he was relieved to find each time that the message was only a business one from London or Paris, giving him the latest confidential news about a government loan in which he was largely interested. When he reached the yacht he sent another man to wait till midnight at the office.

The diva was angry, he thought; that was clear, and perhaps she had some right to be. The tone of her telegram had been peremptory in the extreme, and now that he had answered it after a delay of several days, she refused to take any notice of him. It was not possible that such a personage as she should have left Bayreuth without leaving clear instructions for sending on any telegrams that might come after she left. At this time of year, as he knew, she was beset with offers of engagements to sing, and they had to be answered. From eight o'clock in the morning to midnight there were 16 hours, ample time for a retransmitted message to reach her anywhere in Europe and to be answered. Logothetti felt a sensation of deep relief when the man came aboard at a quarter-past midnight and reported himself empty-handed; but he resolved to wait till the following evening, before definitely leaving Naples for the ten days which must elapse before Baraka could try on her beautiful foreign clothes.

He told her anything he liked, and she believed him, or was indifferent; for the idea that she must be as well dressed as any European woman when she met the man she was seeking had appealed strongly to her, and the sight of the pretty things at Mme. Anna's had made her ashamed of her simple little ready-made gowns and blouses. Logothetti assured her that Krakowsky was within easy reach, and showed no inclination to travel far. There was news of him in the telegrams received that day, the Greek said. Spies were about him and were watching him for her, and so far he had shown no inclination to admire any foreign beauty.

Golden Text—I will say of the Lord He is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in Him will I trust. Ps. xli:2.

Verse 30—Which showed the fairer spirit toward Paul, the Roman chief Captain or the Jews?

If you had to be tried on a question of religious doctrine, basing your decision on history, which court would you select, a committee of secular judges, or a committee of professional priests?

Verses 1-2—What was it, in Paul's opening statement, which caused the high priest to have him slapped on the mouth?

When Christians these days profess to live all the time well pleasing to God, is it a popular testimony with average Christian people?

Why did the high priest object to Paul's profession of having "lived in all good conscience before God?"

Is it possible, and is it the duty of every Christian, to live all the time "with a good conscience before God?"

Verses 3-5—When either pope, bishop, priest or parson, acts like a demagogue, why should he not receive the treatment due a demagogue?

Should the fact that a bad man is on the bench, or at the bar, or in the pulpit, secure for him the respect of good men, for the sake of the office, or of "the cloth?"

Verses 6-10—When Paul saw the spirit of this Jewish Council, did he probably change the style of his address, and if so, why did he do so?

When a jury is packed, or prejudiced against the prisoner and there is no hope for acquittal, what is the next best thing for the prisoner to aim for? Paul's defence was clearly the truth, but was it the whole truth?

Is it always wise or right to tell the whole truth?

What was Paul's real crime, from the standpoint of this Jewish Council?

What was the difference between the belief of the Pharisees and the Sadducees, as to immortality?

What good reason is there for the belief that the soul will live after death?

What did Paul's tactics result in, besides dividing the enemy?

Is it always or sometimes true that "when rogues fall out honest men get their dues," and how did it work in this case?

Verses 11—Does God generally time His visits to us when we need Him most?

In what guise or shape did the Lord appear to Paul, and how did He speak to him?

There is no way to take the miraculous out of the New Testament without destroying it; now in view of that fact, why did not God rescue Paul, in this instance, as He did from the prison at Philippi?

Can you trace any rule by which God was governed in performing New Testament miracles?

Verses 12-15—What was the plot which was formed to bring about Paul's death?

Is it possible that these forty men, with such a murderous intent, could think they were doing God's service?

Verses 16-21—How was this murderous plot frustrated?

How can you trace God's hand in this natural deliverance, as clearly as if it had been done miraculously? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 22-30—What fault can you find, or what can you commend, in the actions of this Claudius Lysias from start to finish?

Verses 31-35—Was Paul just as much under the loving care of God, and were his best interests being served as if he had been at liberty?

Talks on Snake Culture

No. 25—The Champion Wrestler

Frank Catch, the heavyweight champion wrestler, is such a physical marvel that when doctors and other good

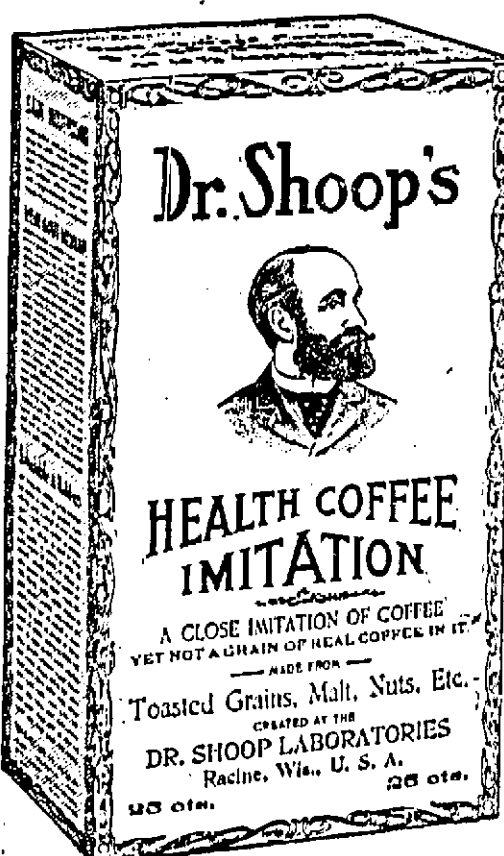

Judges of physique examine him, they simply yell with delight and admiration. He holds his championship without question or dispute; he has defeated a long string of living wonders from the garlic fields of Turkey, and the steppes of Russia; he has felled men from Manchuria, and sailors from Sardinia, and Romans from Roumania. Catch says that there is but one wrestler he is afraid of, and that is John Barleycorn. Old John can down the best of them, under any rules, and when an athlete mixes things with him, the dead game sports always know how to bet. The other day a pugilist went to a sanitarium, which is the denatured name for a lunatic asylum. He was a pitiable, drooping, helpless wreck. A few years ago he was the marvel of his division, the conquering hero of the ring. He had whipped so many good men that he thought he could whip Old John. Your friend John, Barleycorn, is always ready for such an encounter, and will sign the articles at a moment's notice. He is as handy in the ring as he is on the mat, and the way he mauled that prize fighter was a shame and a disgrace. The prize fighter is in the hot water, with his head on ice, and Old John is laying the rest of the boys to sleep up and put the gloves on for a round or two. If you have any sense under that hat of yours, you will decline the invitation.

Save Money And Health

Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee goes three times farther than real Coffee. To protect and safeguard your health, to get a highly satisfying, wholesome, coffee-like table drink, just make a single test of Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee and find the surprise that actually awaits such a test. Its superior flavor is that of true genuine old Java and Mocha, and yet there is not a single grain of real coffee in it.

And Health Coffee "is made in a minute". No 20 to 30 minutes tedious boiling is necessary at all. Being made from pure toasted grains, malt, nuts, etc., it is truly food-like, healthful and wholesome, and is a splendid safe drink for the children as well.

Get Health Coffee from your Grocer and follow simple directions printed on each package. Then tell your neighbor please, how good Health Coffee really is.

Wireless Cure For Rheumatism

Electric Current From Electrodes Proves An Astonishing Remedy For Rheumatism and Other Diseases.

Now Within Reach of Every Sufferer.

You hear no click, you feel no current, yet with increasing power a gentle healing, tingling, restoring current is sent into every fibre, nerve, vessel and organ of the body by means of a remarkable new discovery called Electrodes.

Treats of the results of Electrodes, in cases of rheumatism, especially, and of various afflictions and organic diseases, have caused a transformation in scientific theories. Electrodes are different from any other electric appliances, since they create no current except while they are actually in service. The current generated has a quick remedy for rheumatism, as well as lumbago, back pain, kidney troubles, stomach and liver complaints, nervous prostration, weak nerves, headaches and weak heart.

Electrodes in appearance are peculiar metallic needles so placed in the body and arch of the thumb as to be unnoticeable to the patient. They never cause discomfort, no medicines or temporary drug stimulants are used or needed. Relief from the most chronic rheumatism, complete, healthy change by means of this remarkable new discovery. No remarkable or extraordinary results. Electrodes that they are now being used with each purchaser to give quick relief and entire satisfaction. They are sold now at all drug stores at only $1.00 a pair and the druggist signs a contract that if they are not absolutely satisfied with the results of Electrodes at the end of a full 30 days your money will be refunded.

Thus every man and woman can now test the wonders of Electrodes without risk. If your druggist does not have Electrodes on hand, we suggest that you send $1.00 in The Electrode Company, Suite 14, Holland Block, Lima, Ohio and you will get a pair of Electrodes by return mail, together with our contract, binding themselves to satisfy you before 30 days are over, or positively refund your money. See whether for truly or gentlemanly, get a pair of Electrodes today, and get rid of rheumatism or other trouble at once.

AN EXPLOSION.

Mary—Please, sir, the oil stove has gone out.

Master—Well, take a match and light it again.

Mary—Yes, sir, but it's gone out through the roof.

NO SYMPATHY.

Hobo—Kind sir, a quarter will save my life.

Kind Sir—My dear friend, I am an undertaker.
